WON HIS BRIDE EASILY. A romance that has developed distressing complications became public in New Orleans yesterday. Wednesday night an excited young man drove to the head of Canal street accompanied by an undertaker and a coffin. He frantically cried for a boat to take him to the battleship Texas, saying he was Captain Clark, and in command. A boat was obtained and "Captain Clark" was rowed out. He went abroad the warship, introduced himself and said that he had come for the body of Lieutenant Colson, who had died on the ship. The officers of the ship, be-lieving him unbalanced, sent him

Yesterday it developed that "Captain Clark" had married a young lady trom Cincinnati, at New Orleans, after two days' courtship. The bride is Miss Bertha Warton. She came here with her brother-in-law, Alexander Aronson, a business man of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Aronson, and went to a hotel. The man was staying at the same house. He became fascinated with Miss Warton, and sent a card to her room telling her he was in comma id of the battleship and desired to meet her. City Engineer Dunn has appointed Mr. C. Aronson learned of Clark's exploit on handlest night, became frightened and made an investigation, and soon satisfied himself that the man was either insane or an imposter. Detectives were called in and the groom wa locked up in a cell. When the bride realized her situation she collapsed and was taken seriously ill.

At the police station Clark told a number of conflicting stories. He said first that he was James E. Clark, a lawyer of Cincinnati, but no such name could be found in the Cincinnati direc Subsequently he was identified tory. Subsequently he was identified as J. J. Moyse, of Greenville, Miss. • Moyse said he served in the Fifth Mississippi Immune regiment during the war and that he had obtained his uniform while in the service. The federal officials were notified of his arres and it is stated that if he is not proved to be insane he will be prosecuted for impersonating a government officer.

"Captain Clark" took his arrest cool When arrested he had many telegrams in his possession. One he had written at the telegraph office when Mr. Aronson was with him. It had appar ently not been sent, but read as fol-

For the Babies.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making t easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the parox-yems of coughing, thus depriving that lisease of all dangerous consequences.
